

This meeting will continue the commission's review of city ordinances related to bicyclists and pedestrians with the intention of making recommendations for updates and improvements to clarity, currency, and enforceability.